'NOMINATIONS REFLECT GENERAL APATHY,' SAYS TOM WALL

Termed a "reflection of the general apathy of the Associated Student Body" by Councilman Tom Wall, a Nominations assembly of 19 persons heard 15 students nominated for ASB officers yesterday.

Wall, chairman of the committee in charge of the assembly, expressed a desire that next year's officers would receive greater cooperation from the student body.

This year's Student Council has received many complaints from students, but it seems they are satisfied only to complain. Judging from the candidates, we will have an excellent group of ASB officers," Wall declared.

"However, even the most competent officers are helpless when faced with a general apathy such as that reflected here today," he added.

Nominations were for class council representatives, senior justices, and head yell leader. Those nominated were:

For senior council representative: Sal Millan, Hal Riddle, and Marsha Blase.

Junior representative: Pat Walsh, Helen Gamble, Doug Morrison, and Ed Kerr.

Senior justice: Jocelyn Capp.

Yell leader: Bud Thornber, and Glen Stewart.

Millan, Riddle, Blase, and Morrison were automatically nominated, after being eliminated in the recent election for ASB executive offices.

Miss Capp was the only nominee for senior justice. The vacancies for these offices included one man and one woman justice.

Election will be Wednesday, June 4.

BOZZI AWARD TO BE JUNE 9

The first annual presentation of the Bozzi award will be made at the Recognition assembly in Morris Dailey auditorium Monday, June 9, it was announced today.

Originated from an idea conceived by Jules Bozzi, local jeweler, and Bill Shephard, junior speech major, the $100 award is to be made annually to the student most representative of outstanding character and showing greatest campus and community leadership.

A committee of six has been chosen to make the final decision based on recommendations from students and faculty. Dean of Men Paul Pitman, Dean of Women Helen Dimmick, Director of the Police school Willard Schmidt, ASB President Marty Taylor, Chief Justice Mary Lou Allen, and Dick Fry, editor of the Spartan Daily, comprise the committee.

Any student can submit a name for consideration by writing a letter of recommendation and leaving it in the Spartan Daily office before 5 p.m. Thursday, June 5.

BALLOT THIEVES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 28 (UP)—Ballot thieves early today blasted their way into a vault in the skyscraper Jackson County courthouse in downtown Kansas City to steal August primary ballots and other vote records from 32 precincts.

SPEECH, DRAMA RELEASE LIST FOR '47-48 PLAYS

A variety of comedy, tragedy, murder and frustration will comprise the play list for next drama season.

The six plays to be offered by the Speech and Drama department and the date of their presentation are: "Androcles and the Lion" by George Bernard Shaw, given on October 30 through November 3; "Roamingholm" by Hendrick Ibsen, December 4-8; "My Sister" by Joseph Field and Jerome Chodorov, January 29-February 2; "Medea" by Euripides, March 3-8; "Uncle Harry" by Thomas Job, April 29 through May 3; and "The Affairs of Anatole" by Arthur Schnitzler, June 3-7.

Season books, by which subscribers may see all six plays at a one-third saving, are now being reserved in the Speech office. Student prices are $2.40 a book and general prices are $3.60 a book.

LYCURGUS READY MONDAY A. M.

Lycurgus is in the final stages of preparation, and will go on sale promptly at 9, Monday, in the Library arch, and in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium, reports Editor Glenna McQuiston.

The new price of 25 cents will be in effect, and Miss McQuiston urges students to secure their copy early because only 2000 have been printed, barely enough for one-third of the student body.

Copy Editor Dick Clark states that the fiction section of magazine will feature a novelette by James Caputo, and a short, short mystery thriller, by Hubert "Bud" Thornber. These two stories were rated the best by the editorial staff, of the contributions received this quarter.

Prize-winning poetry from the recent Phelan contest also will be included. Writers are: Ann Stokely Johnston, Paul J. Stevens, and Edwina Forrest.

'IN THE MOONLIGHT'

"In the Moonlight" a play by Guy de Maupassant, will be presented tonight at 6:15 on station KLOK, by members of the Short Story Playhouse, a college radio group.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Edgar Willis, and features Vonne Noel, James Caputo, Anne Hofling, Barbara Baumann, Ed Williams, and John Ickes.

SPRING PRACTICE ENDS WITH 25-21 WIN FOR WHITES

By PHIL ROBERTSON

Before a crowd of approximately 2,000 students and Spartan Boosters, spring football practice had its grand finale last night when the Whites defeated the Golds 25 to 21, in Spartan stadium.

In the opening quarter when the first string Golds met the second string Whites, Babe Nomura started the game rolling with a 20 yard gain for the Golds, on the first play. All through the quarter the Golds powerhoused to a 14-0 finish.

In the second quarter, when the first string Whites met the second string Golds, things were reversed. This quarter ended with a 25-14 score in favor of the Whites. When the third quarter came up, the third string Whites and Golds stalemated. The quarter ended with the score the same.

Thriller of the evening was the battle between the Gold and White first stringers. Here a see-saw battle was fought with the Gold team scoring its last touchdown of the evening on a pass from Pete Denevi to Junior Morgan which was caught behind the goal line. There were no kick-offs in last night's game because the boys had little practice in this and there was a fear of injuries.

One player who has shown consistent improvement in practice this year has been Morgan. He was in there playing ball last night and will probably see a lot of action in the season to come. Herman Knupper, right end, made several brilliant plays and scored two of the touchdowns for the Whites.

Use of the Notre Dame box play was one of the highlights of last night's game. Although the men haven't perfected this play as well as they have the modified T (Continued on Page 6)

NO NEWS YET ON S. B. CARDS

The campus Veterans' administration still has received no word on the discontinuance of veterans' student body cards, according to E. W. Clements, administrator.

The Daily Californian reported Monday that their students will not receive student body cards on the G.I. Bill next semester, because of the enforcing of the VA policy that fees will not be paid unless required of all students.

Although the purchasing of student body cards is not mandatory here, just how this move will affect this campus is not known as yet, according to E. S. Thompson, comptroller.

The San Francisco regional office of the VA has approved payment of S.B. cards in the past on the grounds that the fee, though not compulsory, is recognized as a customary charge to students.

MURRAY CONVICTED

YOKOHAMA, Thursday, May 29 (UP)—Col. Edward J. Murray, Palo Alto, Calif., charged with misappropriating $200,000 in diamonds while head occupation officer of the Bank of Japan, was convicted today of violating the Articles of War.

The court made no announcement regarding which of the six specifications he was convicted of.

COLLEGE SERVICE FLAGS WILL BE REMOVED TODAY AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Taking down San Jose State college's service flags today will be marked by a 20-minute memorial service honoring the memory of the 4000 students who aided the cause of peace and freedom in recent world conflict.

Classes will be dismissed at 10:55 today in order that the student body may attend the program which is scheduled to begin at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

'BARREL' DRIVE EXTENDED ONE MORE DAY

Since the "Barrel day" drive, sponsored quarterly by the Spartan Knights and Arnaconia to raise funds for the Memorial Chapel, did not receive sufficient publicity to attract the expected number of contribution yesterday, it was decided to stretch the campaign to an extra day.

As originally planned, the campaign is to be a concentrated drive, once a quarter, to take the place of the numerous money raising campaigns which continually have faced the student body in the past.

In asking for the cooperation of the entire student body in the undertaking, Dean of Men Paul Pitman summed up the reason for contributing as follows:

May 28, 1947.

Dear Editor:

I refuse to plead for money for the Memorial Chapel. Either this shrine will grow out of the sincere wish of all of us to create something beautiful as a tribute to, and a reminder of, those we seek to honor, or else it will be no shrine at all.

As for myself I had rather we built a $5,000 chapel with our own loving hands (even if it seated only twenty people) than to erect one costing $250,000 by means of a process of begging and nagging.

Not brick and stone and wood and glass, but love and remembrance and gratitude and faith will build this chapel. It will be built by PEOPLE rather than by MONEY. The basic question for each of us is not "Can I afford to give?" Rather, it is "Can I afford to be indifferent?"

Sincerely yours,

Paul M. Pitman.

BALL BIDS ON SALE AT ORIENTATION

"Senior Ball bids will be on sale outside the Little Theater today following senior orientation at 11:30," states Betty Menderhausen, ball chairman. Bids also may be purchased every day in the Business office for $3.75.

As the sale of Senior Ball bids will go on sale to the entire student body June 9, Miss Menderhausen requests all seniors to purchase theirs before this date.

It is important for all seniors to attend orientation, as last minute plans and arrangements for senior week activities will be discussed, announces President George Millias.

"Senior rings have arrived at the Paul Hudson Jewelry store for those who ordered them," adds Millias.

Marty Taylor, president of the student body, will preside at the memorial, and chaplains of the three faiths are to be present. Lt. Chaplain Alfred Barnston, USN; Capt. Chaplain James W. Corbett, USA; Lt. Chaplain G. G. Goldthwaite USAAF, each will speak for two minutes.

A second service, open to the public and families and friends of the men represented by gold stars on the service flags, will be held at 12:15. This service will be a duplicate of the morning ceremony and as the general public is invited the Student Council is attempting to secure the cooperation of everyone in keeping the halls and corridors as quiet as possible while it is in progress.

The Morris Dailey auditorium is to be decorated with flowers supplied by Alpha Phi Omega and the Student Council. Mrs. Gladys Vogelmann of the Art department will arrange the decorations.

Music for the memorial service will be provided by the college's symphonic band and the A Cappella choir. The programs, printed by the Industrial Arts department, will give a resume of the program as well as a listing of the names of San Jose State college war dead which are represented by some 199 gold stars on the service flags.

LAST DAY FOR BEACH SIGN-UP

Today is the last day to sign-up for "State Day at the Beach," it was announced by June Robertson, chairman.

"It is not essential that you sign-up in the booth under the Library arch, but it will help in letting us know how much food to prepare," states Miss Robertson.

Events for the day include: hot dogs, soda pop, and a street dance at night, which will all be free for State students.

"Also during the day there will be swimming and games. A bonfire will be built at night for those who don't care to dance. Students must provide their own transportation, and the affair will start late Sunday morning, and will last until 10 p.m." Miss Robertson concludes.

INTER-FRAT DANCE

The annual Inter-fraternity, Inter-society ball will be held tonight at 9 at the Colonial room of the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco.

Music will be furnished by Ray Hackett and his orchestra, and representatives of all of the social fraternities and societies are to attend, according to Co-chairman George Millias.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

A Summary of World News to 11 O'clock Last Night from the United Press Teletypewriter in the Spartan Daily office.

MARGATE, England, May 28 (UP)—Great Britain has no expectation of asking for another American loan but may conclude a sweeping trade agreement with Russia, government leaders announced today at the annual labor party conference.

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 28 (UP)—President Truman said tonight that his mother has improved to the point where he will return to the White House tomorrow, weather permitting.

JACKSON, N. C., May 28 (UP)—Hostility toward "outside interference" clamped grew in Northampton county today as seven white men charged with kidnapping a young Negro prisoner from jail went free under $2,500 bond.

DENVER, May 28 (UP)—Henry A. Wallace said today that political ambitions mean nothing to him in his bid to "unite the world for peace." He drew the line between himself and Republican Presidential Aspirant Harold Stassen by asserting that Stassen "would be willing to sell out for the vice-presidency and I would not."

LANDSBERG, Germany, May 28 (UP)—Twenty-six more of the Nazis who tortured and murdered many thousands of innocents at the Mauthausen concentration camp were hanged today on the twin American gallowses in the Landsberg prison yard, making a total of 48 executed in two days.

Numbers Racket

GERMAN PROF MYSTIFIES HIS STUDENTS

"Number 40 is Das Respekt."
"Number 39 is Die Hochgeschwindigkeit."
"Number 38 is Die Kulturschichte."

So went Mr. Newby repeating from memory the words from number 40 down to number 1. The idea? Just a little demonstration to show that remarkable powers of concentration are possible and that this power could be used to master the difficult subject of German.

FROM 1 TO 40

The professor wrote numbers on the board from 1 to 40. He then had the members of the class give him a German word and a number to go with it, such as "Mullersohn on number 26" and "Die Korbballmannschaft on number 10." A student in the class would write the words on the board next to the appropriate number. Mr. Newby did not glance once at the board.

FROM MEMORY

When all the numbers had words written next to them the intellectual professor proceeded to read them off from memory. Not content with this, the students would name a number, skipping among the 40, and the professor would repeat the word which went with the number. He also called forth the correct number when a wise student in class mention one of the words on the board.

The beaming little professor amazed the class with his performance. It was a very effective way of teaching German, even though there must have been some trick to it.

After all," said one skeptic, "the words were German words and he has been teaching the language for years."

Cosmetic Display In Science Wing

From the number of times a day most women say, "I must go powder my nose," it might be guessed that the average woman uses at least ten pounds of powder a year.

However, this guess is a little high, for one-tenth of a pound would be a more likely one.

If you are interested in knowing the ingredients of face powder, Dr. Gertrude Witherspoon's cosmetics class has an interesting display in the science building.

Four basic ingredients are shown. Zinc stearate, which gives the adhesive quality, calcium carbonate for absorption, talc for uniformity in spreading, and titanium dioxide for covering.

Also shown are violet and green undertones which, when blended with various pigments, yield the wide variety of shades from which women of today may choose.

THRUST AND PARRY

Hee-Haw

Dear Thrust and Parry:

One of your pre-Spard Gras issues stated that Police students would help keep undesirable happenings away from the quad on Spardi Gras day. They surely failed when the two men were allowed to bring their donkey into the inner quad and mess up the grounds. The grass was growing well enough before they came.

ASB 4183

A Suggestion

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Re George Hurd:

I suggest that you get a bottle, a costume, and a girl and have one helluva good time—then crawl back into your little black corner and gleefully cut worms in half. Your article may well go down in press history as one of the most narrow, sadistic, and small minded expressions of pessimism ever written by man. In a world so full of distrust, anguish, and trouble, it would be far better for the entire human race to don colorful costumes, release its inhibitions, and "have a good time," than to surround itself with the worries of the world and glory in its misery.

Spardi Gras offers one of the few opportunities in which we frustrated humans can actually forget our troubles and join in together for a few laughs and a lot of fun. And speaking of joining, Mr. Hurd, have you ever joined anything, anything that involves good times? If, for example, you ever do join a fraternity, which I rather doubt you would, you'll find that those pledges probably get a big bang out of their drinking. You would perhaps find that hard to understand.

It all boils down to this, Mr. Hurd. We Spartans are going to college for and education, academic and social. We want to prepare ourselves for a lifetime of happiness and enjoyment with other human beings. This calls for a balance in life between the deliciously sweet and the decidedly sober.

Even the soldier puts aside his gun for a laugh and a song between the sweat and the tears. We just want to set aside a day to help keep those same life scales in balance—try it, it's worthwhile. ASB 4679

A Cynic?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The cynical attitude exhibited by one George H. Hurd surely is not characteristic of the feeling of the majority. That such an individual is "loose" in our institution puts him on a par with the Quislings and the Titos. Whether he obtains some type of satisfaction is, as he so tersely stated, "a problem for the psychoanalysts (Freud undoubtedly would have something to say about his personality.)"

That this "man" surely is affecting escape by such means as compensation or similar mechanisms seems obvious merely from his brief effluvium. I hesitate to make reference to the psychological viewpoint, but I think it will be agreed by all those who read Mr. Hurd's literary drivel.

It is certainly unfortunate that ASB 2758 (Mr. Hurd) didn't live at the time of Schopenhauer as they undoubtedly would have been bosom chums. Never have there been two more "Perfect Cynics." ASB 3833

Thanks

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Just a word of thanks to all who contributed to the success of the Spardi Gras Breakfast dance. With all the last minute troubles of no coffee and all, I think everyone present had a fine time.

I would like to thank the Spartan Donut Shop for coming through with enough coffee for the approximately 500 people at the dance with no notice ahead of time. Freshmen who cooperated to put the dance over—you don't know how much I appreciate it.

Also I'd like to thank those who put in so much time on the queen publicity.

Thanks again. Mel Huse.

RECORDS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Heading a group of new records for the library is a set presented by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eagan in memory of the late Mr. George Thomas Matthews of the Music department.

The set consists of Trio No. 1 in B for piano, violin, and cello by Brahms played by Rubinstein, Heifetz and Feuermann. The trio generally is regarded as one of the finest in the entire Chamber music literature.

Other new records include types for various purposes and interests.

HOMECOMING DAY FOR SJS ALUMNI

Annual Homecoming day for San Jose State college alumni will be held Saturday, June 14, according to an announcement in the Alumni bulletin.

Theme of this year's celebration is "Lest We Forget." Mrs. George McGrath (Evelyn Cavala, class of '35) is general chairman of the affair.

Main event of the day will be the outdoor luncheon at 12:30, which will include: a variety program, short talks by guest speakers and officers of alumni chapters, and introduction of old and new association officers.

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, and Wilbur "Bill" Hubbard, football coach, will be guests at the luncheon. William Stevens, class of '35, president of the Alumni association, will preside over the program.

The luncheon program will be broadcast over a local radio station and pre-Homecoming programs also will be broadcast, featuring musical offerings by several music groups from the college Music department.

CLASS TO STUDY BIRDS AT PARK

Members of Dr. Ralph A. Smith's bird class leave tomorrow at 4 a. m. for a week-end at Yosemite studying birds.

The group, composed of approximately 30 persons, will spend Friday morning at the game refuge in Los Banos. There is a variety of water fowl at the refuge, according to Dr. Smith, which cannot be seen in this vicinity.

The bird party plans to camp at Yosemite for two nights and will study and identify birds in the valley and around Glacier Point.

"We hope to find many types of birds which are not common in Santa Clara valley," said Dr. Smith, who will accompany the group.

The class will return to San Jose Sunday night in order to attend classes Monday.

Municipal Affairs Internships For

An official representative from the Core foundation, San Francisco, will be on campus at 12:30 today to interview students interested in a year of Municipal Affairs internship, announces Dr. William Poytress.

The foundation selects college students to participate in these internships which include observing the different governmental departments, business, trade unions, and such semi-public agencies as the Community Chest and Red Cross. The observer is paid $100 a month, in addition to his G.I. subsistence.

This training of prospective governmental personnel has eight men at present. Bob Popp, former Spartan, now a junior at Cal, is one of those taking the internship.

Anyone interested in this work is asked by Dr. Poytress to come in and meet the Foundation's representative in the Social Science office anytime after 12:30.

CONFERENCE BEGINS TONIGHT

The annual Northern California Inter-Varsity spring conference of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship group will open at 6 o'clock this evening at the Beulah park conference grounds, according to CCF President Dave Fraley.

Speakers scheduled for the week-end include Harry Hill, missionary to Korea; Peter McCormack, pastor of the Inglewood United Presbyterian church in San Francisco; William Carl Thomas, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church in Fresno; Douglas Neff, pastor of the Burbank Baptist in San Jose; Vernon Morgan, counselor of the University of California Bible league; and Mrs. Harriette Stafford of the IVCF staff.

Beulah park is located about two miles north of Santa Cruz. All those who intend to be present should mail their pre-registration fee of $1 to Mrs. Stafford, 53 Veterans road, San Francisco 12.

We heartily agree with Mr. Clover Cummings, one of the local sports writers, who remarked in his column, "Diamond Diary," Wednesday, on how close the Spartan baseball team came to winning the CCAA baseball title.

Mr. Cummings stated by playing San Diego and Santa Barbara in postponed twin bills, San Jose could have won the title, provided the Spartans had won three games.

San Jose had an opportunity to play on May 19 when San Diego was up north to play COP. The Aztecs lost a double-header on May 17 to COP and then went home to lose two more to the Port City nine.

The coaching staff states that they made a mistake when they conceded the championship to San Diego at the coaches' meeting at Fresno.

The Spartan baseball team voted to play San Diego on May 17 after they split with COP in their last double-header of the season.

PRO BALL:

Baseball enthusiasts who followed the Spartan baseball team this season can be assured of seeing some good baseball by watching the San Jose Red Sox, local entrant in the California State league, play at Municipal stadium.

The Red Sox play five night games during the week and a twin bill on Sunday. The management gives students a special rate of 30 cents for games.

Free transportation is furnished to and from the stadium by the club. Buses leave First and Santa Clara at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. for night games. On Sunday, buses start running at 12:45 and 1:15 p.m.

LOCAL BOYS:

Bob DiPietro, Red Sox right fielder, is a former Spartan basketball player. He played here during the season of 1946.

Marv "Freck" Owen, Sox manager, is one of San Jose's favorite baseball sons. He spent several years in the American league with Detroit, Chicago, and Boston before returning to the Coast league. He managed Portland last year and returned to the garden city this year to manage the local club.

Nino Bongiovanni, who holds down left field is another local boy. He started his career in the Coast league and spent several years with Cincinnati in the National league before coming back to the minor leagues.

Thrift Shop Planned For the Benefit Of College Women

A "thrift shop" where college women may sell used but good clothing, or but slightly used but clothing, or buy slightly used but June 3, in room 353 of the Security building on First street. The shop is sponsored by San Jose Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent home, half of whose members are alumni of San Jose State college.

The Convalescent Home will benefit from proceeds of the Thrift Shop, which gets a percentage of all items sold. Sellers also get a percentage from the sale of articles they bring to the shop.

Mrs. Charles Luckhardt (Alice Down, JC '23) and Mrs. Paul Bowden (Claire Holgerson) see in the Shop an opportunity for college women to keep their wardrobes varied at a minimum of expense.

Hours for the Shop will be 10:30 to 4:30 Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and 10 until 2 on Saturday.

Among the San Jose State College alumni associated with the venture are: Mrs. Duncan O'Neal, chairman, who is the former Patty Einfalt, '25; Mrs. George McGrath (Evelyn Cavala, '35), Mrs.

Marshall Hall (Helen Campen), Mrs. Luckhardt and Mrs. Bowden. Former faculty members assisting with the benefit enterprise are: Mrs. John Dowdle, home economics; Mrs. Luckhardt; and Mrs. James Stevenson, former secretary to President T. W. MacQuarrie.

'Over Twenty-One' Tells Comic Story Of Life of Army Wife

Hundreds of college veterans will feel the pangs of painful memories when the curtain goes up a week from tonight on "Over Twenty-one," a delightful comedy by Ruth Gordon.

Setting for the play is a cramped, unattractive war motel, located directly across the road from an officer candidate school. Through the scenes wander officers, instructors, officers' wives and all types of zany individuals who go to make up a cross between army officials and newspaper people.

J. Wendell Johnson, college designer, has planned the set in romantic realism. The weird motel, with its windows that fly open, doors that slam, and ice cube trays that stick, will be realistically presented on the small stage of the college Little Theater.

Tickets on sale in the Speech office for 60 cents, student price, and 90 general admission. The play will open June 5 and run until June 9.

formation, they show great capabilities in its use.

Fred Silva, Roy Mangini, Jack Kakuuchi, Bill Elam, and Vico Bondietti were a few of the boys who did some real defensive playing.

Fred Mangini, Bill Perry, Bill Parton, and Jack Donaldson were in there on offensive action. Donaldson picked up valuable yardage on around the end plays. Mangini scored one of the touchdowns for the Whites, after intercepting a pass on the 32 yard line.

Jack Faulk, right tackle, made every conversion for the Gold team. The Whites didn't fare so well in this bracket as they only made one conversion.

Before the game Coach Bill Hubbard introduced each player to the audience. The after-game dance was cancelled due to lack of time and the requirement that all dances on school days be over by 11 p.m.

Names of those men chosen for next season's varsity team will be released some time next week, announced Hubbard.

JV NETMEN RESUME PLAY

The San Jose country club's tennis courts, which have been resurfaced during the past 10 days, will be ready for use again sometime next week, according to Coach Ted Mumby.

San Jose State's Spartan junior varsity tennis squad will resume practice, as soon as the courts are ready.

CHANDLER'S NINE UNDEFEATED AS SLUGGERS BOW

Happy Chandler's Fugitives remained at the top of the Spartan Daily league last night as they won their sixth straight victory, downing the Jackson Sluggers 5-3, in a hard fought battle.

Lee Clark held the Sluggers to four hits, one a home run by Dave Marks. Bud Castle allowed the victors six hits.

Today the Modestian nine meets the Police school on diamond one. The game will get underway about 5 o'clock.

In the second Spartan Daily league game, the Newman club defeated the "Reporters" 10-7 in eight innings. The Newmanites came from behind and knotted the count at 7-7 in the first of the seventh and then went on to score three runs in the extra frame.

In the fraternity league the Sigma Gamma Omega nine won their second straight victory when they downed Theta Mu Sigma by a 4-2 score. All the runs for both teams were made in the final inning.

The other frat game saw the APO nine going wild as they scored a 21-4 victory over Tri Gamma. APO's got 24 hits off Pitcher Jim Crus.

SJS WRESTLER TO GET MEDAL

The first post-war award of the Robert Roumasset medal soon will be presented to the outstanding wrestler of the 1947 wrestling squad, according to Coach Ted Mumby.

This medal is awarded to the wrestlers on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the college. Previous winners included: Co-captain Hans Weldenhofer and Martin Olivani, former Far Western 112 pound title holder.

HILLVIEW GOLF ANNOUNCES NEW TOURNAMENT

Hillview golf course announced yesterday, that there will be a golf tournament for all San Jose State college golfers holding student cards. The qualifying rounds will be held June 2 to June 6. Players will play 18 holes for handicap.

Entry fee for the tournament will be 50 cents. All money taken in will be used for prizes. This tournament will be for the higher scoring golfers, and not for Spartan varsity golfers, the announcement said.

Divisions will be: class A from 80 to 90; class B from 91 to 100; and class C, 101 and over. Match play will be from June 9 until the tournament is finished.

TRACK WINDS UP RELAYS BUT PREPARES FOR TWO MORE MEETS

San Jose State college's trackmen, with the exception of the quarter milers, put away their batons this week, and for the remainder of the 1947 track season they will concentrate on their own special events in preparation for the NPAA meet in Berkeley, June 7, and the NCAA in Salt Lake City, June 19.

Coach Bud Winter will enter almost a full team in the Northern Pacific Athletic association meet at Edwards field Saturday, June 7, which will have some bearing on his selection of men for the national meet two weeks later.

The Spartans are given a chance of making a good showing among the competitors in the bay area which will include the Olympic club, Stanford, and University of California, along with the smaller clubs and colleges in this area. As in the past the Winged-O trackmen will be the favorites to take the meet with San Jose and California battling it out for the second spot.

Friday, June 6, Thelno Knowles and Gene Haynes will probably enter the Compton Invitational meet. Knowles has been invited to compete in the 300 meter run, Haynes has been selected to compete in the 1500 meter run. Several others may receive invitations to take part in the southern meet.
